To Mr. and Mrs. Larkin

Mr. Larkin:

In the five years that you have been a member of the Washington High School faculty you have worked diligently to set high standards for our Band Department. Not only as Director and faculty member but also as friend you have merited the respect, admiration and gratitude of your students and school associates. We are proud to have on our faculty a man with such qualities of capacity and leadership as yours.

Under your direction our Band participated in the Inaugural Parade for President Kennedy. It has placed first in three Sun Fun Parades and become National Champion in the Strawberry Festival. Your work with the Band has brought not only pleasure and benefit to your students but also recognition to our school and community. We admire you not only for your earnestness of mind and willingness of heart but most of all for your unceasing efforts for quality in the character of your students as well as in your music.

So to you, Mr. James Vann Larkin, we dedicate this 1962 PACKROMAK.

We Give . . .

Mrs. Larkin:

The students of Washington High School are deeply appreciative of the time and effort which you devote to us and our activities. Your cheerfulness, your good humor, and your efficiency set a fine example for all of us. We particularly admire your willingness to help above and beyond your duty as a teacher, adviser, and friend.

Your service as Junior Class adviser and teacher was invaluable in making the Junior Senior Banquet and Dance a success. Under your promotion the Spanish Club has become one of the liveliest and most active organizations in the school.

Amiability, kindness, broadmindedness, and above all your attractive personality, make us all love and admire you. Thank you for the spirit you encourage in all phases of our school activity.

It is a pleasure to pass you in the halls, to speak to you and see your twinkling eyes and merry smile.

So to you, Mrs. Mary Anne Larkin, we dedicate this 1962 PACKROMAK.

. . . This Dedication.

Washington High School

The students of W.H.S. look to the sky for inspiration. We set our goals high and strive for excellence. We move, ever upward, always increasing and strengthening our knowledge, values and outlooks. With our hopes in the sky we work to attain our ambitions.

... The Days May Be but Activity at

Mrs. Worthy signs the first shipment of the '62 PACK-ROMAK as editor Sara Moss and as. editor Missy Harrington look on. These two girls kept office hours in the Packromak room struggling with these first sixteen pages during the month of August.

Parlez-vous francais? Excited French students Mary Fisher Moore, Troy Boyd, and Tommy Patterson try out new ear-phones as Mrs. Harris dictates the lesson.

Student Council President, Troy Boyd, leads Washington High students in the clean-up campaign which was begun last year and has proved very successful.

Cloudy or Sunny, W.H.S. Never Ceases . . .

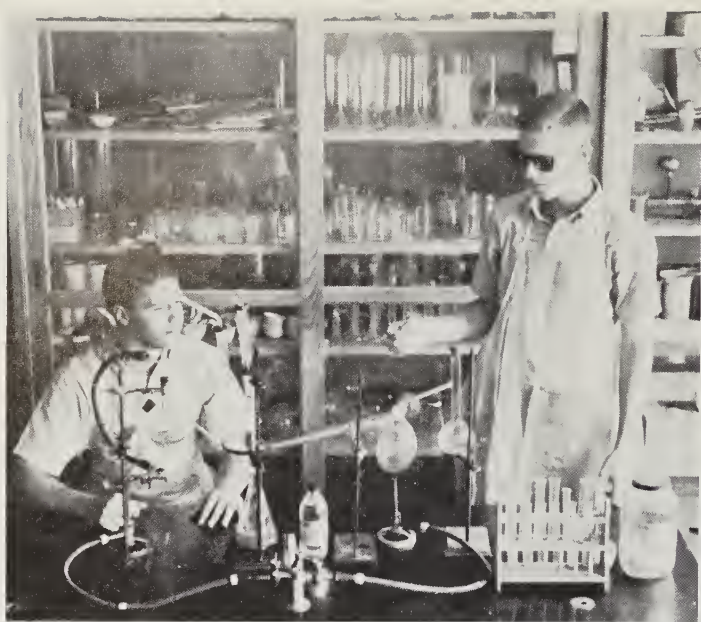

Ahead of the noonday heat and the afternoon showers, the morning sun finds Billy Bullock, Larry Poore, and Grey Winfield playing an energetic game of tennis.

With anticipation of a winning season the August heat can not keep our boys away from football practice. Coaches Wagner, Alligood, and Chapin put them through their paces morning and night six days a week.

Three days a week Chief, Missy Harrington, leads the Varsity Cheerleaders in their summer practice. A great deal of work has to be done in preparation for that first big game.

Mad scientists Grey Winfield and Ernest Larkin perfect their latest discovery . . . guaranteed to blow up the world!

Spanish students, Royce Barrow, Lois Cutler, Jane Alligood and Del Miltenberger listen to a tape recording through earphones as Señora Larkin supervises.

Labor Omnia Vincit. Work conquers all; but it is hard to beat the fun these relaxing Latin students are having. Much hard work preceded this annual Latin Club Banquet which is always a great success.

Many a delightful meal has been prepared by Home Ec. students. Here Ann Swain, Mary Ann Potts, Tish Sawyer, and Kay Walker demonstrate techniques learned in class. They say cooking a meal is almost as much fun as eating it.

Mr. O'Neal and his "kiddies" whiz through many an algebraic equation, geometric theorem, trigonometric figure . . . and even the problems of the world.

Along with summer fun (trips, parades, and swimming parties) comes the hard summer practice for our outstanding Washington High School Band.

Superintendent

Edwin A. West

Board of Education

The Board of Education plays an important role in the administration of Washington High School. Mrs. C. A. Mann, Mrs. Ernest W. Larkin, Mr. James Bagwell, Mr. Fred Adair, Mr. Wilson Leggett, Mr. Ashley Futrell, Mr. Frank Kugler, and Chairman Leon Thompson give their time and effort freely to obtain what is best for the Washington Administrative School Unit. They meet with Superintendent E. A. West each month to discuss, consider, and take action upon educational matters. This is done with one purpose in mind—to provide the young people of Washington with the best possible education. What they are doing in our behalf serves as an inspiration to us all.

Mr. Leon Thompson

MR. KORNEGAY

Mr. Kornegay, the principal of Washington High School, leads the faculty as well as supervising the students. By constantly improving the quality of our school, Mr. Kornegay gives the students the advantages of the best possible education. His is also the task of seeing that the school and its functions operate smoothly.

Mr. J. G. "Choppy" Wagner, the assistant to the principal, is also the head football coach and the adviser to the Boys' Monogram Club. He does an excellent job in all of these fields, a fact which is reflected in his popularity among the students.

Mr. Shep Grist serves Washington High School faithfully as its guidance counselor. Whether a student needs help in planning his high school curriculum, choosing which college to attend, deciding what field to enter upon graduation, or if he just wants to talk things over, the door to Mr. Grist's office is always open.

Miss Libby Bowen, the secretary to the principal, manages all of the correspondence to and from the school, and is also the treasurer of the school. These are two important jobs which she handles very efficiently and very well.

Students gather in the office to have permission slips signed, to buy advance football tickets, to see Mr. Kornegay, or to attend to various matters.

MR. WAGNER: Assistant Principal

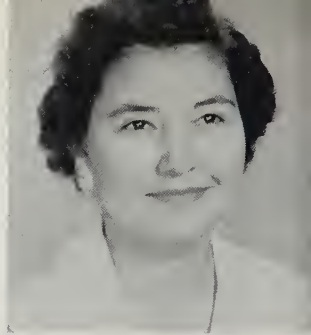

MR. GRIST: Guidance Counselor

MISS BOWEN: Secretary

Mrs. Bobby M. Grimes teaches freshman English and economics and sociology. She graduated from Woman's College with a B.A. degree.

Mrs. Hillard E. Ballar graduated from East Carolina College with a B.S. degree.

Mrs. Virginia G. Ayscue teaches senior English. She has B.A. and M.A. degrees, having attended Woman's College and Appalachian State Teacher's College.

Mrs. Lois C. Bingham, junior and senior English teacher, has a B.A. degree from Asbury College.

To create a better understanding of our English language, the English department strives to teach not only the basic grammar and punctuation, but also the skills of creative writing, public speaking, and vocabulary building. By letting each student participate in group activities such as newspapers, debates, and classroom discussions, these and other skills can be developed. The study of the literature of the English-speaking countries of the world teaches appreciation of our heritage, a very important goal of this department. Four units of English are required for graduation, and this year a course in English Composition was offered in summer school.

A favorite pastime for many of the students is taking Latin.

English is loads of fun for Royce Barrow and Stanley Edwards.

Lang

Mrs. Ruth Hodges teaches freshman and sophomore English. She graduated from Woman's College with a B.A. degree.

Images

Mrs. Everett assists pupils doing creative writing in English class.

Merlin Woolard and Tootsie Cox utilize Mrs. Ayscue's dictionary.

The Foreign Languages Department includes courses in French, Spanish, and Latin. Although the basic grammar and punctuation are recognized as essential, background studies are also emphasized. By learning about the people and their land and customs, a language can be more fully understood.

In the languages where pronunciation is so important, a language laboratory was started this year with plans for improvement in the future. On any given day the students can be seen in the back of the room reciting their lesson.

Mrs. Harriet B. Harris, our Latin and French teacher, attended Woman's College and East Carolina College. She has B.A. and M.A. degrees.

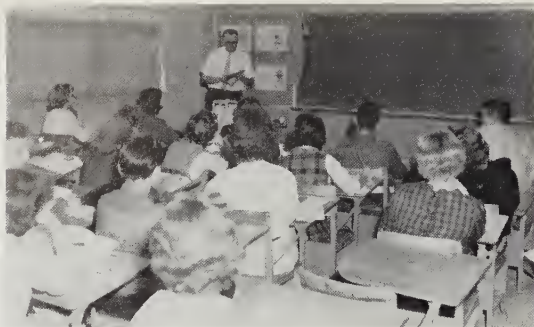

Mrs. Mary Anne Larkin has a B.A. degree from Woman's College. She teaches Spanish.

Mrs. Esther G. Everett teaches English, French, and general business. She graduated from Woman's College with a B.A. degree.

Mrs. Mildred C. Boyd, who teaches freshman English has obtained a B.S. degree from East Carolina College.

Mr. O'Neal demonstrates his geometric cone to 4th period students.

Math and

The Department of Math and Sciences has many varied facets, and the student is able to take the courses that would benefit him most. The science courses offered are general science, biology, chemistry, and physics. This year the general science course is taught for thirty minutes via television, and thirty minutes in the classroom per day. The math courses include general business math, algebra, a combination of plane and solid geometry, and fusion math, which is a combination of advanced algebra and trigonometry.

The obvious goals of this department are to teach the student the technical skills involved in math, the general procedures used in the sciences, and to acquaint him with the physical and numerical laws by which we are governed. There is another goal, however, an ulterior goal, that of teaching the student to really think and to reason. If this goal is reached, the department of math and the sciences has succeeded in accomplishing its purpose.

Mrs. Virginia McGrath teaches first and second year algebra, geometry, and general math. She received her A.B. from Woman's College and her M.A. from Appalachian State Teacher's College.

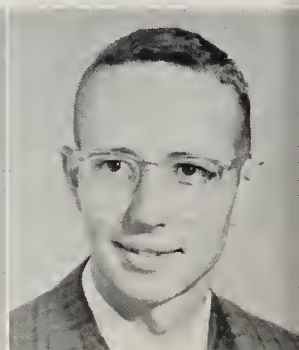

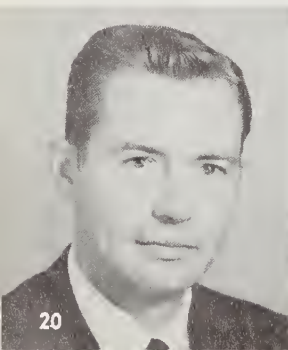

Mrs. Elks helps her students identify the parts of the sponge.

Mr. Jim Blanton teaches chemistry and physics. He has a B.S. degree from Wake Forest College and an M.A. from East Carolina College.

Mr. John T. O'Neal, who teaches general math, algebra, and geometry, attended East Carolina College. He already has a B.S. degree and will get an M.A. this spring.

Miss Myrtie Cooper graduated from East Carolina College, and has B.A. and M.A. degrees. She teaches general math, algebra, and fusion math.

Mr. Paul N. Pritchard teaches biology, general science, and physical education. He has a B.A. degree from the State College of Iowa and an M.A. degree from East Carolina College.

The Sciences

Students work on research papers, history reports, and various projects in the library under the supervision of Mrs. Worthy.

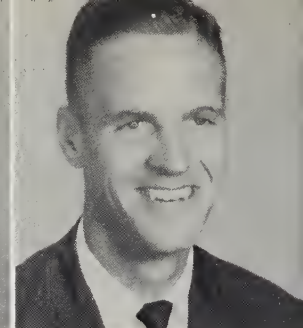

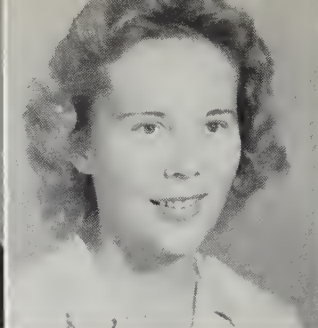

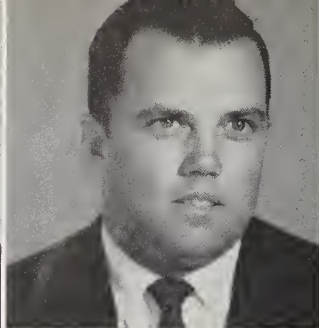

Chemistry labs are an important part of the science course. Labs are a learning experience where the students gather information through demonstration.

Charles Knight, Elizabeth Moore, Susie Smith, and Jimmy Buck discuss the human ear.

Mrs. Doris E. Elks, a biology teacher, has obtained a B.A. degree from East Carolina College.

Mrs. Pauline Worthy, our librarian, holds B.A., B.S., and M.A. degrees. She has attended Winthrop College, Columbia University, and the University of N. C.

Mr. Howard Chapin teaches physical education and civics. He has obtained a B.A. degree from Atlantic Christian College.

Mr. Bob J. Alligood, who is the teacher of health and physical education in the Junior High School, attended Chowan College, Guilford College, and East Carolina College. He has B.A. and M.A. degrees.

Mrs. Leigh Ledbetter graduated from Woman's College with a B.A. degree. She teaches health and physical education.

Mr. James V. Larkin, the band director, graduated from Davidson College with a B.S. degree. He also has an M.M.E. degree from Florida State University.

P.E. teaches sportsmanship as well as the rules of basketball to 8th graders.

Music and Physical

Alton Eborn, Jack McHorney, Steve Woodcock, and Philip Sterling make a very musical foursome.

Mr. Garrard gives students the opportunity to delve into the finer arts of music.

Mr. Sam Garrard directs the choir and glee clubs. His B.A. degree is from Baylor University.

The Music Department at Washington High School has as its main objective the development of musical talent in the school. The choral groups and the band are included in this department. They have consistently brought honor to the school through competition with other choral groups and bands and through the many performances they give during the year.

The Physical Education department also includes studies in health. Health and physical education are combined into one unit of credit, with perhaps a bit more emphasis on physical education. Health classes meet twice a week and P.E. classes meet three times a week. Each physical education class includes calisthenics and organized team sports or gymnastics. The health classes concentrate on studies of the human body, and include studies of alcohol and narcotics.

Education

The Washington High School Band practices every day at fifth period. This is an unposed shot of the students.

Mrs. Ledbetter has just tossed the ball for an exciting intramural basketball game.

Mr. J. M. Worrell teaches Agriculture. He went to N.C. State College and has a B.S. degree.

Mr. Bob Langley is the Industrial Arts and mechanical drawing teacher. He has B.S. and M.A. degrees from North Carolina State College and East Carolina College, respectively.

Mr. Langley supervises a class in mechanical drawing. This was almost a candid shot.

Mrs. Tommie G. Glenn, who teaches personal typing and the commercial courses, has a B.S. degree from Woman's College.

Linda Crisp, Sue Bright, and Jean Wallace seek help from Mrs. Ballard during a clothing lab.

Mrs. Sally Talley teaches the commercial courses. She attended Woman's College and East Carolina College, and has a B.S. degree.

Mrs. Carolyn Ballard teaches Home Economics. She went to East Carolina College, and has a B.S. degree.

The Department of Useful Arts includes the commercial courses of typing and shorthand, the vocational courses of industrial arts and agriculture, and the practical course of home economics.

The courses in typing and shorthand can train students to be typists, stenographers, and secretaries. Many students, however, may not wish to type professionally but would still like to learn to type. This is the purpose of the personal typing course, and this year a course in notehand, a useful new way to take notes, is being offered.

The goal of the industrial arts courses is to teach dexterity in the use of hand tools and machinery. A course in mechanical drawing is also offered in conjunction with industrial arts. The agriculture courses are designed for students who have decided to enter the field of agriculture as a vocation.

Instruction in home economics is helpful in preparing every girl for later life. In these classes the students learn to cook, to sew, and to perform many other duties of the modern housewife.

Mrs. Barbara Lewis, who teaches home economics, has a B.S. degree from East Carolina College.

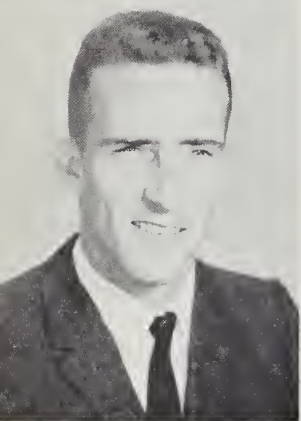

Many nutritious meals are prepared by Home Economic students.

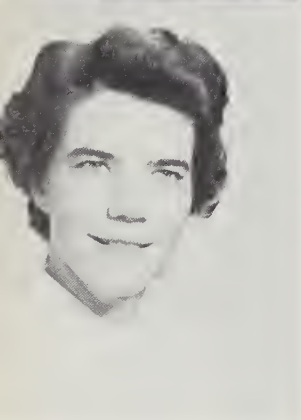

Sammy Oliver and Jesse Manning can do wonders with their ceramics.

Mrs. LaRue M. Evans teaches American history and world history. She has her B.A. and M.A. degrees from East Carolina College.

Mr. David T. Fowle graduated from Davidson College with a B.S. degree. He teaches American history and world geography.

Mrs. Sarah M. Thompson is the Bible teacher. She attended Peace College and has a B.A. degree from the University of North Carolina.

Social Studies

The far-ranging Social Studies Department includes the courses in world geography, world history, American history, economics and sociology, Bible, and civics. With the many visual aids used in this department, the student can be transported to almost any place or any period of time.

The goals of the geography and history classes are to teach what events have taken place in the world, where they occurred, and under what conditions they occurred. By careful examination of these facts students can more easily understand what is transpiring in the world today.

The course in economics and sociology teaches the economy and the sociology of the world now and in years past. By this study the course can also teach a better understanding of current events.

The Bible course is financed completely by contributions from people and organizations in the community. Students may study either the Old or New Testaments.

John Litchfield gives a progress report in Mrs. Evans history class as students listen attentively.

These students are being sociable . . . they are not studying!

MRS. PERKINS

MISS McLAWHORN

Mr. Carl Smith teaches science and social studies. He graduated from East Carolina College with a B.S. degree.

Mrs. Mary Ella Jarman, the eighth grade mathematics teacher, has a B.A. degree from East Carolina College.

Mrs. Mary S. Moss, who teaches English, has attended Duke University, Randolph-Macon, and the University of Michigan. She has B.A. and M.A. degrees.

Mrs. Louise D. Patton who has obtained B.S. and M.A. degrees from East Carolina College, teaches North Carolina history.

The Eighth grade classes are in the high school building, but operate independently from the high school. The Eighth graders study English, math, history, reading, physical education, and science. There is an advanced science group taking the TV science normally taken in the freshman year. The mathematics course, new this year, is designed to prepare junior high students for the more modern forms of algebra now being taught.

This is a grade of transition from the idea of elementary school to the concept of having a different teacher for each class. However, all of the students take the same courses. They are governed by a student government organization which functions similarly to the one in the high school.

Eighth

Mr. Smith uses the globe to aid students in understanding eighth grade history.

In Mrs. Patton's history class students watch as specific locations are pointed out on the map.

Responsive students in Mrs. Latham's TV science raise their hands to answer questions.

Mrs. Jarnian's eighth grade students attentively listen while she explains a difficult problem.

Grade

Mrs. Frances W. Porter teaches reading skills. She has been to the Woman's College and to East Carolina College, and has her B.A. and M.A. degrees.

Mrs. Billie Latham has a B.A. degree from Meredith College. She teaches the eighth graders science.

Mrs. Garris' students bend conscientiously over their English books.

Mrs. Ulma S. Garris, who teaches English and reading skills, has been to East Carolina College and N. C. State College. She has a high school teacher's certificate.

We are deeply indebted to our janitors for making Washington High School a nice place to spend our younger days—a clean place, anyhow. Charlie Latham and Lulu Latham, Willie Askew, and Edna Blount do an excellent job of not only keeping the school clean, but also just being available when they are needed. To realize how indispensable they are, one need only visualize the way the school would look after one week without them. The first ones to arrive in the morning, the last to leave in the afternoon, our janitors are never without a smile.

The Student Council is the most important organization of Washington High School in that it is the governing body of the student activities. The council is composed of representatives of each homeroom, Student Council officers, representatives from all clubs and major sports, and the presidents of the Junior and Senior classes. The purpose of the council is to promote between the students and the faculty a sense of cooperation and to impress upon the students a responsibility of membership in a democracy. Among the many activities of the club are sponsoring the Coronation Ball, supporting a War Orphan, publishing the Student handbook of Washington High School, and participating in the homecoming parade. Their most important project is promoting a vigorous clean-up campaign.

SECRETARY Paula Soder

ADVISER

Officers of the Student Council are elected by the student body through secret ballot. Initial nominations for the offices are made by the Elections Committee and additional nominations may be made from the floor. The students conduct vigorous campaigns for their candidates. The week of elections finds our school cluttered with posters, banners, and campaign cards.

... Committees

FINANCE: Keeping account of the receipts and expenditures is the function of the finance committee. Ronald Mizelle, chairman, leads Joe Leggett, Augusta Tetterton, Missy Harrington and Tish Sawyer in this job.

ASSEMBLY: Planning assemblies and seeing that order is maintained are the duties of Jimmy Perry, chairman, John Gorham, Tomarie Peevy, and Barbara Picard.

DANCE: Ernie Larkin, chairman, Churchill Grimes, Darlene Warren, and Emily Spruill are in charge of all decorations, music, and selling tickets for dances sponsored by the Student Council.

PUBLICITY: Publicity handles all advertising for Student Council events. This committee is composed of Nelda Winstead, chairman, Connie Lane, Robby Roberson, and Merlin Woolard.

BULLETIN BOARD: This committee keeps an up-to-date bulletin board in the lobby. Members are Donald Miller, chairman, Zee Dixon, Ray Moore, Rufus Whitaker.

and Functions

HOUSE: The main function of Anne Kornegay, chairman, Jimmy Leach, Claudia Smith, Sharon Woolard is being responsible for the Christmas tree in the lobby and decorations.

DRINK: Football games wouldn't be the same if the drink committee did not see that drinks were available for all thirsty fans. Ed Walker, chairman, Leslie Miller, Camilla Leggett, and Thomas Stanley composed this committee.

POINTS: Gail Dunbar, chairman, Billy Bullock, Billy McCotter, Juanita Warner, and Mike Wall, check on all students to see that they have not exceeded their quota of points.

ELECTIONS: Jane Alligood, chairman, Larry Farmer, Sammy Oliver, Billy Winstead, and Paula Stoltz handle all voting, mainly for Coronation Ball Royalty and Student Council Elections.

SARA MOSS: Editor
Supervision, planning, and organization constitute the numerous responsibilities of the Editor. The work of all the staff is supervised by the Editor, who presses them to meet their deadlines.

The PACKROMAK of Washington High School is published by the National Honor Society. In 1942 the first volume of the PACKROMAK was a thin blue paperback edition. At that time there were only 50 members of the senior class. Since that time Washington High School has grown into a triple A school with a senior class of one-hundred and fifty-eight. The PACKROMAK has continued to grow with the school. This year we are producing the largest annual yet. Much hard work plus approximately four-thousand dollars constitute our yearbook.

The PACKROMAK Staff is composed of members of the National Honor Society selected by the new and outgoing officers of the Society, the new and outgoing Editors, and Mrs. Worthy, adviser for the club. The Editor-in-Chief is elected by the National Honor Society. Although the book is printed by Society members it is important to the entire student body. The co-operation of all the students is necessary to produce a first rate annual.

BILLY McCOTTER Photographer
There is no limit to the time and effort Billy has devoted to the PACKROMAK. Afternoons, nights, and holidays found him diligently taking, developing, and printing pictures.

JUDY DUDLEY Feature Editor
The job of conducting superlative elections, covering all extracurricular activities, and drawing up copy sheets meant difficult work for Judy.

GREY WINFIELD Sports Editor
Covering athletic events, taking pictures and drawing up pages meant fun for Grey.

"Work" is a word frequently heard around the PACKROMAK room and every staff member knows well its meaning. In order to get that first shipment on its way to Dallas, Texas, many people had to sacrifice hours of their summer fun to get the ball rolling. After the first section left there were sighs of relief but not of long life as the real work was yet to be done.

With each click of the camera and each peck of the typewriter the day for departure of the last section drew near. The PACKROMAK was eventually on its way and with it the hopes of the entire staff.

ADVISERS: Mrs. Boyd
Mrs. Harris

At Washington High about 32 girls meet once a month with Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Boyd, advisers, to investigate further their chosen profession.

The Future Teachers of America is a national organization and the local chapter has a charter which attaches them to the national group. The purpose of this organization is to interest young men and women in becoming teachers.

During the year guest speakers come from nearby colleges to enlighten and inspire the members. The club enjoys a combination of fun and work. The members leave with anticipation of the time when they will be teachers themselves and capable of pointing out a good way of life, as their teachers have done for them.

Dramatics Club

Mrs. Harris and Donald Miller are working on the scripts for the club's next presentation, "The Diary of Anne Frank."

The DeMille Playhouse is composed of various students who are interested in the field of drama, either as a career or hobby. Off and on during the school year, this club has presented plays for the enjoyment of the student body.

The club this year selected Mrs. Harris fore their adviser. The officers as pictured at right are,

PRESIDENT: Don Miller
VICE-PRESIDENT: Ann Wilson
SECRETARY: Mary Hudson
HISTORIAN: Carolyn Drake
TREASURER: Elaine Knight

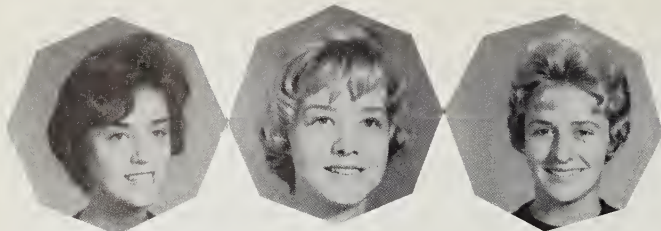

This is a scene from "The Bad Seed."

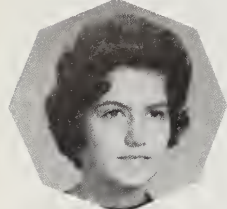

Members of the club are Jane Barrett, Elaine Knight, Sue Civils, Lorre Alligood, Ann Wilson, Eleanor Rodman, Patricia Upton, Claudia Smith, Mary Lou Hunt, Jamal Saleeby, Ann Ross, Alvin Chesson, Fred Harwell, Del Miltenburger, John Myers, Ashton Bulifont, Kay Potts, Ann Cratch, Carolyn Drake, Diane Mason, Joesphine Bowen, Mary Ann Potts, Mary Kay Kolacz, Carl Jackson, Sharyn Gilgo, Don Miller, Mona Pellitier, Sharon Tyre, and Pat Lurvey.

This organization is composed of 197 girls who are interested in the field of homemaking. Throughout the year, these girls participate in serving at various banquets, earning for themselves the well respected name of The Future Homemakers of America.

Commercial Club

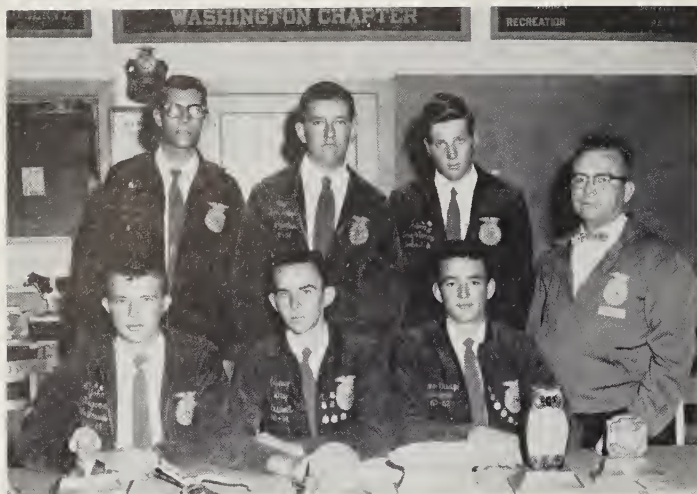

The Commercial Club is designed to prepare students for general office work or college. The enrollment in the department is limited by the number of typewriters available. The club is composed of people taking bookkeeping, typing and shorthand. A variety of programs is presented at each monthly meeting. Each year five or six students from both the first-year commercial and second-year classes are chosen to go to Greenville to compete in the County Typing Contest based on the work done for the first semester.

Several of the first and second year commercial students compete in the County Typing Contest. Here we caught a view of the girls practicing before the big day!

The officers in this club are Barbara Picard, President; Easter Davenport, Vice-President; Linda Leggett Program; Peggy Banks, Secretary; and Ann Gabsch, Treasurer.

The W.H.S. Choir represents the cream of the crop in the vocal music department. Each student is auditioned before becoming a member of this select group. Participants in either the choir or the Glee Club are benefited by a wider and more thorough knowledge of music and musical pieces. The members of the W.H.S. Choir are E. Alligood, B. Cox, A. Cratch, D. Garriss, C. Hall, S. Hodges, B. Jones, L. Jones, A. Lamm, B. Lilley, G. Manning, B. Midgette, M. Midgette, C. Miller, M. Myers, A. O'Neal, L. Ormond, V. Owen, N. Perry, K. Potts, J. Woolard, E. Woolard.

The Boys' Quartet, composed of Alton Ehorn, Phillip Sterling, Steve Woodcock, and Jack McHorney are shown here rehearsing for a performance. Practice has developed this quartet into a fine group of singers.

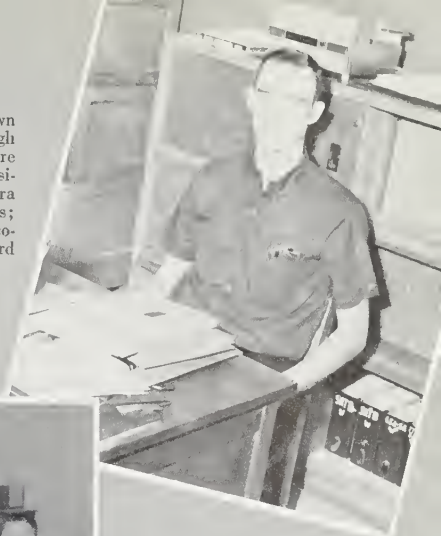

The girls' trio is shown here, frolicing over a tune which is almost ready for performance. The girls' trio, including Ann O'Neal, Mildred Myers, and Vivian Owen, have done a fine job.

Bill Loy, accompanist for the W.H.S. Choir, is practicing a number to be used in the annual Christmas concert.

The officers and pianist are shown here in a meeting, posing long enough for our cameraman. The officers are president, Steve Woodcock; vice-president, Phil Sterling; treasurer, Myra Midgette; secretary, Mildred Myers; social chairman, Carolyn Miller; co-chairmen of property, Alton Woolard and Mike Alligood.

This is an unusual sight. Our music room is very seldom empty. The room is equipped with the best in music.

Mr. Gerrard, director of the W.H.S. vocal music department is relaxing after a strenuous week of Christmas concert practicing.

The Girls' Glee Club is part of the W.H.S. Vocal training program. Every student receives a well-rounded foundation of music to be used as she pleases: in church choirs, in harmony groups, or simply for her own enjoyment. The members of the Girls' Glee Club are H. Alligood, A. Berry, L. Burroughs, B. Cartwright, P. Campbell, J. Crisp, B. Dixon, B. Dixon, D. Dixon, J. Fleming, J. Griffin, B. Ingalls, D. Lamm, M. Lee, B. Sullivan, B. Sutton, P. Wells, B. 1961 Homecoming Queen

Missy Harrington

Missy Harrington, Chief Varsity Cheerleader and a favorite of the entire student body was selected Homecoming Queen by the football team.

Much time and effort was spent in decorating floats for the homecoming parade. This year the Spanish Club float won with their "Good Neighbors" theme.

Standing with their escorts are the sponsors Judy Dudley, Sally Cox, Carol Feeley, Missy Harrington, Sara Moss and Donna Stowe.

Homecoming —

Cheered on by the crowd and cheerleaders, the Pam Pack team burst onto the field.

B-e-a-t Jacksonville was repeated by the excited and enthusiastic crowd at the homecoming game. The Pam Pack and the Cardinals played an exciting, suspense filled game that resulted in a tied score.

These girls were selected by the team to be sponsors and from them the Homecoming Queen was chosen.

After the game, W.H.S. students celebrated by burning a coffin containing a "Jacksonville Cardinal."

We could have danced all night!

The annual formal dance held in the fall at Washington High School was an especially beautiful and successful event this year. As usual the dance was sponsored by the Student Council. Providing the music were the Embers, a combo that merited everyone's approval. The evening was highlighted by the coronation of the king and queen of the ball, who were selected by the entire student body.

The following night, the Junior High students enjoyed their own Junior Coronation Ball in the same surroundings.

Seniors

We are Seniors now. With our heads held high and with the sky as our limit we venture into the realm of worldly affairs, always reaching higher and higher to achieve our ambitions.

Class Poem

CLASS OF 1962

Your doors flew open and in we strode,
Afraid at first but bearing our load.
We were young and timid then—four years ago.
Now we're independent—meeting friend or foe.

We have surpassed our childish years,
Now we have defeated those petty fears.
What caused our maturity—we cannot say,
But we know, High School, that you paved our way.

You gave us friendship; you gave us pride;
You were our pathway and even our guide.
You gave us security; we held to it fast,
Though each in his heart knew it could not last.

The qualities you gave us words cannot include.
For our education we are filled with gratitude.
All that you offered gave us pride.
Through study we matched your stride.

The understanding teachers kept us on our course.
When we weakened they used force.
While we've studied; we've been tempted
To depart from work and from labor be exempted.

The alumni before who have left you behind
Have experienced our feelings and know our minds.
They know the feeling of welled-up sorrow,
They know the excitement of awaiting life's tomorrow.

At your exit we turn and stare,
Noting your appearance with silent care.
Until our life is over, whether the end be near or far,
We will remember you, W.H.S., as our brilliant, guiding star.

LINDA SPAIN
Class Poet

Washington High School History 1962

Now that we are Seniors and have reached this milestone in our lives we pause to reminisce over the highlights of the past years. Never will we forget the year 1950, when the first grade fused us into a real class and brought our first class project, "The Circus." Excitement ran high as the curtain opened and we as tigers, elephants, tightrope walkers, Hawaiian dancers and other circus personalities performed for our proud parents and other guests. As well as the circus, we will always remember reading about our old friends "Dick and Jane."

As the third, fourth, and fifth grades flew by we plunged deep into true academic learning. As sixth graders, we were thrilled to be the first students to occupy the new elementary wing at John Small School. This year brought an all day bus trip to the Air Base at Cherry Point and to Tryon Palace.

The seventh grade was our momentous turning point. We entered Washington High School. Our unforgettable trip to Williamsburg highlighted this year. We shall never forget how some of our classmates were nearly left in the beautiful state of Virginia.

After being introduced to the idea of changing classes in the eighth grade, we were ready to enter the ninth and to become a part of high school life. How could the past memories of this year—the Latin Club, P.E. as a regular class, and the J.V. teams—ever fade away?

Bugs, bugs everywhere but not a bug to spare was a quite familiar quotation in our sophomore year. We all made a valiant search for bugs which seemed to be everywhere except where we were. The excitement of our sophomore year came to a climax on the morning the Junior-Senior Waiters and Waitresses were announced. We were really moving into school activities with more vim and vigor and before we knew it we became Juniors.

Our Junior year was truly our greatest. In the early fall we plunged into a vigorous magazine sale. We finally received our long awaited class rings and proudly flashed them about but many did not keep them long. Then the most important event of all our eleven years of school—the greatest Junior-Senior of them all, "The Jungle." Will we ever forget the feelings of glowing excitement when we could stand back and survey our completed project? In our eyes every thatched hut was an example of perfection, as was also the waterfall that flowed down the mountain side and wound under the vine covered bridge. The mysterious sacred god added a flavor of intrigue to the Waiters and Waitresses as they fell into the rhythm of the jungle beat, dressed in costumes of leopard skins.

Before we knew it we had grown another year older and had reached that all important year—our Senior Year. We took a more serious attitude realizing the importance of the impending future. But along with the serious side there was also a light one. The new dance sensation, "The Twist," had swept the countryside enveloping Washington High School. Suddenly the year was almost over. Our Senior play, "Lock, Stock, and Lipstick," had been a great success and all enjoyed working on it. Eventually the final step came, exams, commencement, and the symbol of these twelve years—our diplomas.

Some of us left regretfully, some joyously but we all had a certain sentimental feeling for our great class of '62.

The newly organized Washington High School Drill Team is certainly a credit to our school. They perform precision drills during half-time at the basketball games.

This year the Boys' Monogram Club purchased a popcorn machine to be operated during basketball games. The students are happy to have the popcorn and the club is happy with their profits.

The Halloween Carnival this year was a great success. Plus the teachers' side-show, the cake walk, and an ole hat sale everyone enjoyed the dance in the bandroom.

There are so many wonderful things that transpire during a year at WHS that we, the students, are really fortunate to be a part of them.

Can't we remember in the fall when Roanoke Rapids came to Washington on the train for the football game? Next year we hope to return the visit.

We'll never forget the pep rallies that the cheerleaders worked so hard to plan. Because of their enthusiasm and good sportsmanship, George Attmore and Sylvia Taylor were elected Mr. and Miss School Spirit.

Everyone has had a "twisting good time" at the Parish house dances this year.

The snow really put a damper on our exam schedule this year. We students rejoiced at missing two and a half days of school and having our exams postponed.

a snowfall. This is a scene from lunch period on the 11th.

Junior-Senior Tropical Jungle Success

On April 26, 1960, after weeks of planning and hard work the class of '62 entertained the class of '61 at the traditional banquet and dance. With the chosen theme "The Tropical Jungle" the Juniors began, and in the end, were repaid by the success of the endeavor.

Complete with a name band and exquisite decorations the dance was the huge success everyone was anticipating. Special recognition should go to Tomarie Peevy and Judy Dudley, chairmen of the dance and banquet respectively.

Festivities did not conclude with the prom, for the fun, the excitement, and the gaiety continued all weekend.
